

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Election, Tuesday, Nov. 7th.
CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

For Congress—First District—
CHARLES G. WILLIAMS, of Rock.

The only good Samuel J. Tilden is doing for his country in making trouble in the Democratic party.

It is rumored that there are some friends of Colonel Uley, of Racine, who want him to run as an independent candidate for Congress against Mr. Williams. What sort of a grade these "friends" have against the Colonel is not known.

Congressman Ellis, of Louisiana, has made a discovery. He says there are virtues, brains, character, and sound judgment in the Democratic party. The people would hardly have believed this, judging by what the party has done and is trying to do.

Some of the Democratic leaders will be apt to think that the Michigan Democrats are going mad on the tariff question. They want free trade. The surest and quickest way the Democratic party can buy itself is to have it whispered about in a campaign that it is for free trade.

It is believed in Pennsylvania, that the Regular Republican committee in that State will sacrifice General Beaver for the sake of electing State Senators who will favor Cameron's return to the United States Senate. Cameron generally looks out for No. 1, and it wouldn't trouble his conscience much to sacrifice Beaver for Cameron.

The personal relations of Mr. Keyes and Senator Sawyer are said to be very friendly. The Evening Wisconsin says, "in a recent visit to Madison, Senator Sawyer called upon Mr. Keyes and it is stated they have a good understanding. In fact, Mr. Keyes says to the Wisconsin that the reports that Senator Sawyer is working against him and in favor of Cassell, are untrue. This will naturally be taken as an indication that Senator Sawyer expects Mr. Keyes will be the next congressman from the Third District."

Dr. D. W. Bliss has written a letter to the Board of Health, appointed to settle the claims growing out of the illness and death of President Garfield, in which he complains of the sacrifices he made in taking the President's case, and the ill-health resulting therefrom. In answer to this the Milwaukee Republican-Sentinel says: "Dr. Bliss says he lost thirty-eight pounds of flesh while attending the late President Garfield, and he thinks $25,000 a reasonable fee. Shylock paid three thousand ducats for a pound of flesh, and Dr. Bliss thinks the market has not changed materially since."

The performance at McVicker's theatre in Chicago on Monday night will be remembered as one of the most important and interesting histrionic events of the time. On that night Miss Margaret Mather appeared for the first time in her life "before the terrible tribunal of a crowded theatre." Shakespeare's immortal love tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," was the play, Miss Mather acting the part of Juliet. For more than two years she had been preparing for that all-important event in her lifetime. She was advertised as no other actor or actress was ever advertised in this country. The best dramatic critics in the United States had heard her read in parlors and drawing rooms, and the metropolitan journals throughout the land recorded her praise, and from no direction came there a discord. Her's was a terribly trying situation on Monday night, for not only was she to face one of the very largest and most brilliant and intelligent audiences that ever assembled in a theatre in Chicago, but she was forced to confront some of the sharpest critics of the present day. They came from cities far and near, and came to criticize Margaret Mather as no other actress had been criticised.

When the pretty little woman appeared, the outburst of applause was simply terrific. Instead of a shower it was a regular tornado. Mather showed her acknowledgments with youthful grace and womanly bearing, and bowed and bowed, and on came the storm of enthusiasm. When she got to uttering the audience became steady for awhile, and at the close of the first act the demonstration was renewed with genuine earnestness, which showed that this far there was no disappointment. Then began the display of floral tributes, such as never have been surpassed in any performance in the country. At the close of every act they were bestowed with lavish generosity, and in artistic design and costliness they have rarely been equaled. It is impossible in the short space the Gazette must give to Miss Mather, to describe her acting as Juliet. We can only give a brief description of the interesting scene, and some general impressions. Very much was expected of Margaret Mather, and very signal were her triumphs. In the famous balcony scene her acting was natural and grandly touching, but her crowning triumph was probably in the potion scene where she swallows the poison. It has been said that not since Cushman was in her glory as Juliet, was this part better enacted than it was on Monday night by Mather. She won triumphs in every act, and when the curtains went down at the tragic death of Romeo and Juliet, the demonstration baffled description. The vast audience rose to its feet, and cheer after cheer in perfect storm followed. Mr. Hill, the manager, shared somewhat the honors of the evening with Mather, and twice was he called out amid deafening applause. He has done a marvelous thing in bringing out Mather. Whether she will go on making conquest after conquest, remains to be seen. She may never reach the perfection of Adelaide Neilson, nor acquire the power of Charlotte Cushman, but a few more successes like that of Monday night will place her beyond the reach that Mary Anderson has attained.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Hessing has received a dispatch from Los Angeles, stating that his father has not been killed by the Apaches.

BANK ROBBERY.

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—On the afternoon of August 14 the First National Bank at Kewanee, Ill., was robbed of about $25,000 in the following manner: Two men called at the bank and asked permission to leave a safe for a time. About 6 o'clock, while Cashier Pratt and his lady assistant, Miss Palmer, were cashing up, the men knocked on the door and asked for the safe. Miss Palmer opened the door, when one of the men grabbed her by the neck and kicked her nearly insensible. The other man rushed by her toward the vault, near which Pratt was standing, and struck him on the head with a revolver, knocking him senseless. Pratt and Miss Palmer were then forced into the vault, which the men secured about $20,000, of which $6,000 was in gold, and walked out of town. Pratt and Miss Palmer, after working over half an hour, succeeded in breaking the lock, and released themselves. The usual scenes incident to a pursuit ensued. Scouting parties were organized, and the whole country was reported up in arms. The cashier and his assistant seemed unable to give a very good description of the robbers, and it seemed they never would be captured. There were ill-defined rumors at the time of the collision with some employees of the bank. Pinkerton took charge of the case, and has bagged the men who did the job. On the 20th inst. Edward Welch, a traveler for a Boston fish house, was arrested in Chicago county, New York. From him enough was learned to lead to the capture of the ring-leader of the gang in St. Louis in the person of Dr. James A. Scott, a dentist of this city, having a place of business at 1116 Washington avenue. A Pinkerton detective arrived here last Sunday, and soon spotted his man. The arrest was made about midnight last night, but the matter was kept quiet by the police. Dr. Scott says he has been in St. Louis about six months. His home was formerly in the vicinity of Kewanee. The plan to rob the bank, he says, was formed about a year ago. The parties to the plot being Welch, Scott, and the cashier, Pratt. Before making up their minds to rob the bank this same frightened trio, as Scott says, defrauded the bank of $5,000 by means of forgeries. Dr. Scott is seen to-day looking like anything but a robber. He is rather pretty, well featured, looking young gentleman, with a pleasant countenance, and a happy smile on his face and good clothes on his back. He is a fluent talker, but it is hard work to get anything about the crime out of him. He has a pretty young wife, who was with him nearly all day at the police headquarters. It was on his acknowledgment to the detective, which the latter says constitutes a complete confession of the crime, that the cashier was arrested to-day. Scott was taken to Chicago to-night.

A GOOD DECISION.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—A majority of the board of directors of the industrial exposition, to-night, decided not to open on Sunday. There is intense excitement here, as this act is considered to be a strong indication of the political condition.

DISAPPEARANCE.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 29.—Charles A. Logan, editor of a newspaper at Logan, Ohio, has been missing since August 13, when he started to Cincinnati on a business trip, intending to return in a few days. Mr. Logan is 24 years old, very light complexion, blue eyes, light brown hair, and of medium size.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Boston, Aug. 29.—The Somerville flour mills, doing a somewhat extensive Western business, were destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $20,000; insurance, $12,000.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 29.—Albert Lewis' mill and ice house at Lehigh tannery burned to-day. Loss, $25,000.

DENVER, Mo., Aug. 29.—Bishop's new opera house at Red Oak burned this morning. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $17,000.

WABASH, Ind., Aug. 29.—The elevator on the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific railroad at Janesville, this county, was set on fire last night at 1 o'clock, and burned to the ground. Five thousand bushels of wheat were in the warehouse at the time, and was consumed. The elevator, which belonged to the railroad company, was valued at $5,000, and the total loss will approximate $11,000.

FARMERSVILLE, La., August 29.—The greater part of the business portion of the town is burned. The total loss is estimated at $50,000; insurance, $50,000, mostly in New Orleans companies. The fire originated in J. Marx's store. It is believed to have been incendiary.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—The large oil shipping depot on Seranton avenue caught fire to-night from some unknown cause, and consumed the entire shed and contents. There were said to be about 10,000 barrels in the depot, besides which ten cars of refined oil were burned. Several persons narrowly escaped with their lives. The oil is still burning at midnight, but is under control. Loss on oil and deposit is estimated at $50,000 to $70,000.

THE INDIANS.

CALABAZAS, A. T., Aug. 29.—A band of unknown Apaches raided the valley early this evening, and it is reported have killed quite a number of men, women and children, amounting to twenty in all. They have taken all the ranches from Calabazas to the line, and the people are coming into Calabazas for safety. Ju's band have crossed the line into Arizona. It is believed it is he who is raiding the settlements. Capt. Madden, commanding at Fort Huachuca, is in pursuit of Indians raiding the Santa Cruz Valley. The killing of Martinez and family yesterday occurred only fifteen miles south of the tragedies reported from Calabazas.

"BLUE JEANS" BROTHER.

JACKSON, Tex., Aug. 29.—Judge G. Williams, brother of "Blue Jeans" Williams, of Indiana, and for many years justice of the peace here, has been adjudged insane, and removed from office.

THE NINTH DISTRICT.

WAUSAU, Aug. 29.—The Republican convention for the Ninth district was called to order and organized by selecting L. B. Noyes, of Marinette, chairman, and M. Westcott, of Shawano, secretary. While the committee on credentials were making up their report, a committee on resolutions, consisting of D. H. Puleifer, of Shawano, W. W. Ghoca, of Marathon, S. A. Phillips, of Wausau, H. O. Fairchild, of Marinette, S. B. Hubbard, of Taylor, and W. R. Sutherland, of Ashland, made and presented their report, which was adopted. The committee on credentials reported delegates present every county in the district, except Portage county and the contesting delegation from Price was seated, after a short fight. The convention then adjourned for supper without having reached a vote.

Upon reassembling an informal ballot was taken, resulting as follows:

First formal ballot:
Stephenson.....22
Brown.....19
Welch.....13
C. M. Upham.....8
The first ballot was taken without delay and resulted:

Stephenson.....25
Brown.....25
Welch.....11
The result was greeted with acclamations from the Stoves Point side of the house. Upon motion of Senator Scott the nomination was made unanimous. A committee was appointed to wait on the several candidates, who appeared before the convention, and were received with rounds of applause. Mr. Stephenson, upon being introduced, thanked the Convention for the honor conferred, and then retired. Mr. Welch spoke manfully and was applauded the result of the vote. Mr. Brown spoke more at length and his voice showed that he was deeply moved by the result. His remarks were laudatory of the party, counselling vigilance and watchfulness. After appointing a congressional committee the convention adjourned sine die.

Sick and bilious headache, and all derangement of stomach and bowels, cured by Dr. Pierce's "Pelllets"—or anti-bilious granules. 25 cents a trial. No cheap boxes to allow a waste of virtue. By druggists.

DR. THOMAS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The sale of seats in the People's Church, (Hooley's Theatre), the Rev. H. W. Thomas, pastor began on the 16th inst., and already some $2,500 has been realized—about twice as much as last year. This indicates that the popularity of the doctor is increasing. But this is the first year when there was no uncertainty in regard to his preaching. Two years ago, it will be remembered, he sustained a supernumerary relation to the Methodist Church, and last year he was charged of heresy, and was compelled to suspend preaching until they were disposed of. This year he is free of all complications, and will occupy the pulpit every Sunday from September 3, until the last one in June of 1883.

Two-Thirds of a Bottle Cures.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have been taking your "Favorite Prescription" for "female weakness." Before I had taken it two days I began to feel stronger. I have taken two-thirds of a bottle and believe I am cured. Gratefully,
Mrs. H. C. Lovett, Watseka, Ill.

THE REPORT DENIED.

Unworthy Influence.

Many persons are prejudicial against proprietary medicines. They do not know why. Many narrow-minded doctors condemn them without knowing or caring to know in the least about them. These are mostly young and self-interested. One of these, strongly endorsed, and coming into popular use, for the Liver and Dyspepsia, is ZORSA. 8 oz. bottles 75c, 6 dr. 10c. Sold by Trencio & Evenson.

Some account was given of each of these books, particularly the last, which contains about 5,000 entries, and might be supposed to indicate very rapid deterioration of the language in this country. The fact, however, is that no more than 500 of these are genuine Americanisms now in decent use, the remainder, nearly 400, are set down by the author himself as of British origin; and at least 175 more are certainly British. The rest of the book is a list of words and phrases, many of which are made up, partly of expressions never in general use, or long since antiquated; partly of mere mispronunciations, grammatical errors, unauthorized contractions; partly of vile slang, and partly of wearisome repetitions.

Among (supposed to be) genuine Americanisms either entirely omitted or unsatisfactorily treated by Bartlett, the following are mentioned:

Misinformation.

Two Irishmen, fighting side by side, agreed that the one who was first wounded should be at once carried off by his comrade. Soon one poor fellow cried out that he was shot in the leg, when the other immediately took him upon his back, and was carrying him across an open plain when a chain shot passed swiftly along and took off the head of the wounded man without the bearer knowing anything about it. An officer riding by called out, "Why, where are you going with that headless body on your back?" Upon this, Pat laid down his burden, as he looked at it, exclaiming, "By jehers, he told me it was his leg."
